GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY

Bonnie Sullivan is Honored For 25 Years with C. of C.

A highlight of Thursday night's Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce 27th annual dinner was a surprise presentation of a 25th anniversary watch to Mrs. Bonnie Sullivan, the office manager.

Mrs. Sullivan was called before the 325 persons who were in attendance at the Granite City high school cafeteria to hear U.S. Senator Everett M. Dirksen and was presented with a wrist watch by Howard Kaseberg, C. of C. president.

"I thought he was talking about someone else until he was nearly finished with his remarks," Mrs. Sullivan said afterwards.

Loyalty, Dedication
In making the presentation, Kaseberg commended Mrs. Sullivan for her loyalty and her dedication to the C. of C. He praised her ability to handle the business of the office in the period of time when the Chamber is without an executive secretary and for the friendly assistance she has given newly-elected officers.

"We deeply and sincerely appreciate all you have done for us concluded in making the presentation."

Kaseberg, who was named to his second term as C. of C. president, reviewed briefly the past year's program of the Chamber. "My message is printed on the program, so we can save that time to hear from the senator," he remarked.

The program outlined the C. of C. accomplishments including direct or indirect involvement with the Wilson Park ice rink and recreation center, the sewer bond issue in Granite City, closer relationship between Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus and the local community, the building and expansion of schools and the improvement and expansion of local industries.

Takes Grit, Strong Will

In his message, Kaseberg outlined "After the new beginnings, it takes grit, determination and a will to see the job through to a successful conclusion in order that significant achievement may be made."

"We must now move forward finish what we have started. While we must never lose sight of the long range goal of the Chamber of Commerce to improve and develop all phases of community activity so that we may have a better place to live, we need now to concentrate on the solution of a few of our specific problems."

"As Chamber members, we should all pledge a portion of our time and talents to some specific project or committee activity. It is only through united effort and tireless determination that we will be successful in attaining our goals."

Elected to serve with Kaseberg for the new C. of C. year are Leo H. Kowen and E. G. Schmitt, vice-presidents, and E. G. Schmitt, treasurer.

Officer Installation

The installation of the new officers was conducted by Carl E. Mathias, past president of the Chamber, 1964-65, who noted the officers "all have outstanding records of leadership in the community and will meet the challenge that is to improve the community."

The toastmaster for the evening, Randall Robertson, local lawyer, introduced the public officials present after the invocation by Rev. Dr. David B. Mastran, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

The officials included County Board of Supervisors Chairman Harold Landolt and Mrs. Landolt; State's Atty. Leon Scroggins and Mrs. Scroggins; Donald Partney, mayor of Madison, and Mrs. Partney; and Raymond Rogers, mayor of Edwardsville, and Mrs. Rogers.

Also given recognition were the 1967-68 C. of C. directors, the C. of C. past presidents and the members of the Chamber's Ambassadors club who served as hosts for the 27th annual meeting.

C. of C. Directors

The directors for the current year are:

- Dale Arnette, Chester L. Baker, C. E. Blankenship, William C. Brockus, Russell O. Crockett, B. J. Davis, Robert M. Edmonds, Henry R. Gabriel, B. J. Hunter, A. E. NLRB Examiner Says Union to Pay Worker

An NLRB trial examiner has recommended that an employee of the blast furnace plant at Granite City Steel Co., John Dial, be paid five days wages by Chemical Workers Local 50 for time lost resulting from discharge at the union's request. William W. Kapell of the St. Louis NLRB office issued his recommendation today based on findings from a hearing last June. He found the union failed to notify Dial properly of the deadline for Dial to join the union. The union then called upon the company for his discharge.

Dial said he did not find a notice on his time card at the plant. Clifton Patterson, financial secretary for the union, testified he personally had placed the notice on Dial's time card, but added that it could have fallen off.

Dial began working for Granite City Steel as a steelworker at the main plant on April 10, 1966, and last March 23 was transferred to the blast furnace. He began work there March 28. It was on April 27 that the union notified the company that Dial had failed to join the union.

Testimony showed that Dial had been on days off April 25 and 26 and had taken off work April 27. He had asked a fellow worker to watch his timecard for the union notice. Because of his discharge on April 27, he lost seniority when rehired May 2 and then was laid off May 6 for economic reasons. He joined the union on May 11, and by mutual agreement between the company and union, his seniority was made retroactive to March 28.

The trial examiner's findings were that the union did not follow its customary procedure in that it requested Dial to pay and then failed to merely sign a union membership application, and that Dial was not offered a card to sign at the time of discharge.

The examiner is recommending that the unfair labor practices complaint against the company be dismissed, and added that the union did engage in unfair labor practices resulting in discrimination suffered by Dial.

He passed away 35 minutes after arriving at the hospital from the nearby plant. Mr. Seiber, a native of Salem county, Ill., lived here from 1931 to 1962 when he and his family moved to Mt. Olive. He had been employed at the local 1945 years.

Optimist Speaker Gives In to Series

A guest speaker, scheduled to address Granite City Optimists at their regular luncheon meeting Thursday noon in the YMCA, "bowed to the inevitable" as one club member described it and with a few well-chosen phrases suggested those gathered to hear his return to the television set and watch the final World Series game between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Boston Red Sox.

Dr. John J. McBride, chairman of the Counselor Education and Educational Psychology department at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus, voluntarily accepted a "rain check" from local Optimists to return at a later date and present his talk, "Knowledge Is Power."

Dr. McBride's suggestion was greatly appreciated, one club member commented, adding, "I believe he, too, wanted to view the crucial game." The educator was issued a cordial invitation to return at his convenience, it was learned. McBride is former vice-president of Union Starch & Refining Co. Prior to the impromptu adjournment, Rev. Robert Baumann, pastor of St. Peter United Church of Christ, conducted a memorial service for the late Arthur L. Laur, a former president of the Granite City Optimist Club and an Optimist life member.

Arrangements are in the process of being completed for an evening meeting on Thursday, Nov. 2, at the Granite City Army Depot Officers' club, replacing the usual noonday session. Dr. Raymond E. Troyer, Optimist president, said. Further plans will be announced at this week's meeting, he added.

Henry D. Karandjoff, program chairman for October, who introduced Dr. McBride, reported that Warren Little of Belleville, a public protection engineer with the Illinois Inspection and Rating Bureau, will address club members Thursday.

Nineteen members and one visitor, Michael McMillan, a guest of his father, C.A. "Bud" McMillan, attended.

HUMPHREY TO SPEAK AT NAMEOKI SCHOOL PTA

Owen Humphrey, former principal of Mayville school, and now district curriculum coordinator will be the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of Nameoki school PTA Tuesday evening. He will speak on the "Changing Educational Scene," announced Donald Kopp, principal and program chairman.

Charles Mase, president, who presided at the recent executive board called for reports by Mrs. Katie Wilson, treasurer, and Mrs. Marion Spole, secretary.

Other reports were submitted by Mrs. Betty Rowlett, ways and means chairman, announcing a new project, the selling of ribbon and gift wrapping. She requests volunteers from the parents in this sale.

Mrs. Virginia Hamilton, hospitality and membership chairman, said there are now 94 paid members and a contest will be held and prizes awarded to the rooms who sign the largest number of parents as members.

Mrs. Joann Vaughn, Room Mother chairman, spoke on a meeting of the room mothers held Tuesday morning and said there is still a need for more mothers to assist with planned parties for each of the rooms. She said the kindergarten room mothers will serve refreshments at the meeting tomorrow.

The publicity chairman resigned due to ill health, and Mrs. Joan Mase and Mrs. Jo Anne Huelkoetter were appointed to fill the office. They will prepare flyers with the PTA meeting dates, Parents Activity Night and the school menus.

Kopp announced there will be no meetings in November since National Education Week will be observed Nov. 6 through 11 and in conjunction with this an open house will be held at the school on Nov. 7.

Dalton Gaschubis and Charles Mase attended a Madison County Administrative Association meeting Sept. 26 in Alton, and gave a brief resume of the conference.

Eugene Monahan reported his committee had purchased three portables tv sets to be used in the class rooms.

Mrs. Joan Mase announced the 26 prints will be framed and ready to display at the school within the next week.

A brief discussion was held on the "Variety Show" to be held in the spring.

A communication from Mrs. Pat Polley, Area Council PTA president, was read in which she asked for volunteers to take a census of preschool children through college age in preparation of a school bond issue to be held in February. Monahan will serve as chairman of the committee for Nameoki school and a meeting for volunteers will be held Oct. 23.

Miss Nancy Jane Russell, Bobby Allen Picker are Wed

Pentecost Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Nancy Jane Russell and Bobby Allen Picker. Their parents are Mrs. Evia Russell, 1801 Spring avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Beanie W. Picker, 2184 Orville avenue.

Bouquets of white flowers and greenery, together with lighted candles in candelabra at the altar, and candles in the aisle, provided the setting for the 7 o'clock ceremony performed by Rev. Gus Falter.

The bride was escorted by her cousin, George Mathenia. She wore a gown of imported rayon organza with a lace cape effect sweeping into a Watteau train. Pearled and scalloped Chantilly lace accented the oval neckline and accented the yoked redingote train, revealing an A-line skirt.

A bouffant veil of tulle was held in place with a brocaded rosette. The bride's bouquet was made up of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

A program of wedding music was provided by Marvel Randall, organist, and Donna Randall, vocalist.

Mrs. James Gann, a cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, and another cousin, Judith Mathenia, and Pamela Crews, were bridesmaids.

They were dressed alike in floor-length gowns, pumpkin color, with matching Venice lace. Lace also outlined the round necks and the long bell sleeves. Headpieces were the same shade as the gowns and all three carried nardrop bouquets.

A little flower girl, Karla Pourcault, the bridegroom's cousin, was in a white lace dress over satin. She held a small bouquet of bronze and gold with white carnations.

Another cousin of the groom, David Abegg, carried the rings on a satin and lace pillow.

The bridegroom's attendants were Glenn Ashoff, best man, and Bernard Picker and Robert Picker, the bride's brother and cousin, groomsmen. The ushers were Allen Nicol and James Taylor.

After her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Russell wore a deep pink two-piece suit with a pink hat and pink accessories, while the bridegroom's mother chose a navy blue suit with white trim and navy accessories. Both had corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held at the church after the service.

The bride and groom are graduates of Granite City high school and the bridegroom attended Southern Illinois University. Both are employed in St. Louis. They will make their home in Madison after a short trip to Springfield.

The group voted to contribute $5 to the Lincoln Memorial Gardens in Springfield, and the flower show of District Five, Garden Clubs of Illinois, to be held at the Signal Hill Lutheran Church in Belleville Nov. 10, was discussed. Plans were also made to attend the Presidents' Council luncheon Oct. 27 at Fischer's restaurant in Belleville.

Others present to whom refreshments were served were Mrs. C. E. Eads, Mrs. Charles Kohl, Mrs. A. J. Shannon, Mrs. Earl Glenn and Mrs. John Farrell.

The club will meet again Nov. 9, when Mrs. Glenn will entertain at her home, 1628 Garfield avenue.

Victory Vanishes in Fog as Warriors Bow 27-0 to Wood River

The weather was foggy for Friday night's homecoming game on the Granite City high school gridiron, and when the mist and smoke of battle had settled the Wood River Oilers had made off with a 27-0 victory, their first to go with a tie and a loss in Southwestern Conference competition.

Suffering their third straight conference setback, the Warriors were never in the contest after the visitors chalked up 13 second-quarter points. The Oilers added 14 points in the third period.

Vanishing in the fog along with the team's hopes of victory were the stars and touchdowns that are sometimes placed on players' helmets in recognition of outstanding performances.

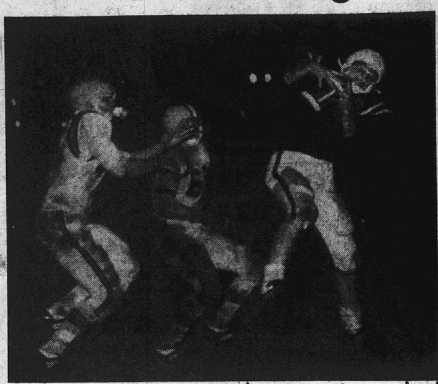

No Awards 'Until We Win'

Couch Jim Morrison has discontinued "player of the week" recognition, "until we win a ball game." The cellar-dwelling GCIS squad, which has only an opening-game tie to show for its efforts in five games, still attracted a crowd of 1500 enthusiastic fans Friday.

The fog which developed over the field in the third quarter added to a jinx which has denied the Warriors a homecoming victory for four years.

There were bright aspects of the game for home town fans and for Morrison, who points out that a young and largely inexperienced team is beginning to mature. "That was a sophomore (Jerry Monahan) who blocked a punt and ran the ball to the Wood River eight-yard line in the second quarter.

"We went three-quarters of the game with mostly sophomores and juniors playing, and it is going to pay off. They're all getting a chance to learn their trade."

Scoring Ice Broken

The Warriors failed to threaten in the first quarter and, with Kevin Watson doing most of the running, Wood River had moved to the Warrior 15 when the teams exchanged ends of the field. From the two-yard line on third down, Halfback Jim DeWerrf score through left tackle for a 6-0 Oiler lead. Bob Pates blocked the extra point kick.

Granite City was held in its first series of downs after the kickoff and punted to the Wood River 38. When the Warriors and Ron Sheppard and two incomplete passes gave the ball 20 yards before being tackled.

back to Wood River on its 29, own 21. Four plays later, DeWerrf went up the middle for a foot and a half and his second TD. McCollister added the second of his three extra point kicks.

Lateral Leads to Touchdown

On its own 42-yard line, GCIS attempted a pichout and it was read by the opposing line-backer, Jerry Lepchensko, who intercepted the lateral and ran 40 yards for a touchdown.

GCIS was stymied by the fog and by a pass interception by John Tyler near the close of the third period.

The final quarter saw Wood River move to the GCIS 33 only to lose the ball on an incomplete pass and a punt that netted just seven yards. An exchange of punts near midfield occupied the remaining time.

GCIS gained 85 yards on eight of 17 passes but lost 37 on the ground while Wood River rolled up 138 yards rushing and 88 on four of nine passes. The Oilers outdistanced the Warriors 13-4 in first downs.

Missouri-Nebraska Football Trip Planned

Granite City football enthusiasts will have another opportunity to see top-flight college football this season, according to an announcement today of a second game trip Saturday, Nov. 18, to the Missouri Tigers-Nebraska Cornhuskers contest at Columbia, Mo.

Harold Brown, park district superintendent, reported 15 tickets already committed with 30 remaining for the Big Eight clash which annually attracts a sell-out crowd. Cost is $9 per person, including a $5 stadium admission ticket and $4 round-trip transportation charge.

Those wishing to make reservations are urged to call the Wilson Park office, at 877-3009, as quickly as possible, the superintendent said, noting that additional tickets cannot be secured for this game.

A group of local football fans traveled to Champaign, Saturday, Oct. 25, at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. The affair is open to club members and their guests and will be co-hosted this year with the Alton Masketeers Diving Club.

Dividing Club Banquet Election on Oct. 28

Few reservations remain for the annual awards banquet of the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club to be held Saturday, Oct. 25, at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. The affair is open to club members and their guests and will be co-hosted this year with the Alton Masketeers Diving Club.

Mrs. Jeanette Ballard, arrangements co-chairman, reminded local divers who have not yet made reservations to do so immediately. Approximately 100 persons are expected to attend.

Festivities will include a dinner, starting at 7 p.m., followed by presentation of a traveling trophy to the diver who accumulated the highest number of points in the 1967 "Labor Day Spearfishing Contest," at Bull Shoals Lake, Mo.

Competition is staged annually between the two area clubs, with Ronald Homyer of the Bubblemasters receiving the trophy in 1966.

An election of officers will take place prior to dancing to the music of a Granite City ensemble, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Edward Duffin, Bubblemasters president, will preside. Serving with Mrs. Ballard as banquet co-chairman is Charles Dilling of the Masketeers.

Latest Chapter in Trojan 'How to Succeed' Book a 33-14 Romp

"How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" is the name of a popular Broadway play and motion picture.

"How to Succeed in Football" is a story that the Madison high school Trojans seem well-equipped to write, although it is obvious to onlookers that their success isn't happening accidentally; they are really trying.

Still undefeated past the halfway mark of their 1967 season, the MIS gridirers wrote their latest chapter at Brees, Ill.

Thursday night, breezing to a 33-14 non-conference victory.

But although still No. 1 in the Midwestern Conference, the Trojans are certain they will have to initiate No. 2 and try harder than ever in their upcoming games. They have yet to face three conference powerhouses, Cahokia, Roxana and Bethalto.

437-Yard Offense

The contest at Brees was helpful in that it enabled Madison to experiment with a variety of offensive plays—an opportunity usually lacking once the conference campaign has started.

Just about everything the Trojans tried worked to perfection Thursday as they amassed 410 yards on the ground and 127 yards through the air and chalked up 14 first downs. Mater Dei earned 109 yards rushing and 53 yards passing and recorded eight first downs.

"They couldn't contain us at all," a happy Coach Mariand Schiebel reported. "We continued to explode every time they thought they had us cornered."

Most of the Trojans saw ample action at Brees but one of their mainstays, 180-pound Fullback Tius Ship, was still bothered by a shoulder injury suffered during a game at Triad.

Run, Pass for Touchdowns

If it was an "off night" for Ship, somebody forgot to tell Mater Dei. He gained 51 yards in the first period and scored a touchdown before retiring for the remainder of the game, resting up for an expected busy evening this Friday, when Cahokia will come calling.

Ship's touchdown run preceded a 55-yard scoring sprint by halfback Terry Brake. Harold James kicked an extra point for a 13-0 first-quarter edge.

In the second period, Right End Joe Collins, a 180-pound senior, took a 23-yard pass from Quarterback Jim Scott, with James again booting the point after touchdown for a 20-0 half-time advantage.

The only touchdown of the third quarter was scored by Mater Dei Quarterback Bill Becker, who engineered a drive and then kept the ball to run it over from five yards out.

Madison scored twice in the last quarter as Scott ran around right end for 21 yards and a touchdown and then Ronny Britt passed to Ed Hilton for a 30-0 final score.

Brees touchdown was a 10-yard pass from Becker to Kenny Horstman, left end.

Speed Offsets Weight

"They were big boys—Right Tackle Jim Hunkap weighs 283 pounds—but we were able to handle them with our speed. They just couldn't move fast enough to stop us," Schiebel summarized.

He described it as a team victory. Top players selected seven of 12 passes to Mater Dei's End Keith Williams on defense and Quarterback Scott on offense. "Williams has made the second most tackles on the team, next to Ship," the coach noted.

The Trojans completed seven of 12 passes to Mater Dei's End Keith Williams on defense and Quarterback Scott on offense. "Williams has made the second most tackles on the team, next to Ship," the coach noted.

First Shot at Burglar

Harvey Quest, proprietor of the Bluff View Market, 9020 Collinsville road, spotted a burglar in his store early Saturday and fired a shot at him with a .38 caliber revolver, but the intruder got away, he reported to the Madison county sheriff's office.

A carton of cigarettes and a notary seal were broken. Quest said he heard glass breaking as he chased the thief. He was notified that an intruder was in the store by a tenant living upstairs who heard a noise.

Mrs. Florida Crook, 1217 Calhoun street, reported to Venice police that $40 was taken from her purse that was on a kitchen table at her home. She said the theft occurred after she had returned home from grocery shopping.

Vandalism and Theft

County authorities are to question a local youth in connection with vandalism and theft at a house under construction on Rural Route One.

Import Quotas

On Steel, Coffee Studied-Dirkson

Import quotas to prevent further export of jobs to other nations were urged at a press conference here Thursday by U. S. Senator Everett M. Dirksen.

Addressing a dozen newsmen at the Granite City Steel Co. office building, the Senate minority leader said he plans a rider to President Johnson's Social Security legislation to establish quotas for such goods as steel, glass, textiles, electronic equipment, petroleum, dairy products, shoes, beef, lead and zinc.
Imports of instant coffee also will be studied for possible inclusion in the legislation, Sen. Dirksen told the Press-Record.

"There is tremendous interest in this not only on the part of businessmen but their employees. In the steel industry alone it has been estimated that 70,000 jobs have been exported to Japan and other countries. With steel being brought into this country at an increasing rate at the same time American firms are developing much new steelmaking capacity, there is a real threat to our employment and economy."

Hearings This Week

The Senate Finance Committee will hold hearings on the proposed quotas Oct. 18, 19 and 20.

Asked to comment on possible differences between himself, fellow Senator Charles Percy of Illinois and other senators regarding the war in Vietnam, Sen. Dirksen recalled that the Republican party was formed in 1856 through a coalition of groups holding differing views.

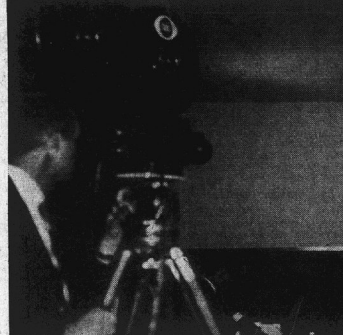

"The party umbrella is big enough for many shades of opinion," he stressed. "He takes one view, I take another. We explore it in our own way."

Sen. Dirksen said he is hopeful of heading the platform committee at the 1968 national Republican convention and declined to pinpoint the exact extent of support he will give to Sen. Percy, who hopes to be the presidential "favorite son" of the Illinois delegation.

The minority leader said, "I am only one delegate and there will be 56 or 58. The convention is 12 months away. Ask me after there has been an announcement of his candidacy."

Defending his backing for a staunch stand by the U. S. in Vietnam, Sen. Dirksen said he receives a "multitude of facts" from the administration, CIA, Secretary of Defense and others and commented that "it didn't follow my best judgment in drawing conclusions from these facts I wouldn't be meeting my responsibilities."

The minority leader reacted sharply to a St. Louis reporter's question dealing with "a drift by leading Republicans from 'hawk' to 'dove' positions re-

BARRAGE OF QUESTIONS was answered adeptly by Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen at a press conference late Thursday afternoon at Granite City Steel Co. The 15-minute session, guarding Vietnam.

Supplied with such names as Senators Hatfield and Javits, Sen. Dirksen said they have never been "hawks." When the reporter concluded that he had made a bad choice of words in phrasing his question, Sen. Dirksen said, "It wasn't bad; it was wise."

He maintained that North Vietnamese have had many direct opportunities to obtain negotiations but have never agreed to cease hostilities even when the U. S. made such an offer. "Is this a one-way or a two-way street?" he asked.

Should we place the lives of our fighting men in jeopardy?"

Deficit Causing Inflation
Questioned about proposed pay raises for postmen and other federal employees, Sen. Dirksen said that about a billion dollars has been allocated for raises and about $875 million is anticipated from proposed postal rate increases.

Supporting 1962 legislation which sought to establish a permanent relationship between the salaries of federal employees and those in private industry, he also called attention to his estimate that the federal deficit this year may total between $30 and $32 billion.

"About half of the last increase in Gross National Product, $12 or $13 billion, represented inflation."

"Large federal deficits definitely have an inflationary effect, which affects every person who goes to buy a pound of sugar in a grocery store."

Concluding that potential inflation will need to be considered along with the need for higher wages, he declined to predict the outcome of current federal pay discussions.

One-Day UF Campaign Ok'd By Building Trades Unions

Endorsement of a one-day effort on Oct. 27 for giving to the Tri-Cities Area United Fund by workers in construction and building trades in the City area has been secured from leaders of the unions concerned.

The announcement was made today by Robert T. McCormick, director of AFL-CIO Community Services, and labor staff representative of the Tri-Cities Area United Fund.

The Council of Southern Illinois Building and Construction Trades Business Representatives, William P. Horstman, secretary, and the International Hod Carriers and Building Laborers Union Local 397, Jack Green, business manager, endorsed the plan on Thursday, McCormick said.

Plans for solicitation of all construction employees were made at a meeting at the Carpenters' District Council of Madison County Hall in Mitchell. Attending were Eugene Ellberg, secretary-treasurer, and Henry Eversman, business secretary of the Council of Southern Illinois Building and Construction Trades Business Representatives.

A feature of the plan is solicitation of pledges by union stewards on each job, who will secure pledge cards and supplies through the contractors. Material will be distributed in the next ten days by Kovalk and O'Connor.

Complete cooperation with the United Fund drive was also approved by the Southern Illinois Builders Association, which approved offering payroll deduction for payment of pledges. The City-Cities Trades and Labor Council also endorsed the United Fund in September.

'Green Achers,' Inc., For Andersen Family

A not-for-profit corporation charter has been issued to the John X. Andersen family for "Green Achers" in Minnesota.

Mrs. Andersen explained that she and her husband were developing the cottage—125 miles west of St. Paul—and that their children and their families wanted to become part of it.

"We decided that the best way would be to incorporate, and that's what we did. We call it 'Green Achers' because that's what it is. We're all green about this sort of thing and we develop a lot of aches keeping the place going."

"But we're having a lot of fun doing it," Mrs. Andersen added.

The state charter was issued for recreation purposes. The John X. Andersen live at 2217 Woodlawn avenue.

Sheriff to Patrol E. Madison After Football Games

The Madison county sheriff's office will patrol the East Madison area following Madison high school athletic events in an attempt to prevent mob brawls, it was announced today.

The decision came following an investigation of three different brawls following a football game on the night of Oct. 6.

One of the fights occurred in the unincorporated area of East Madison and two more on Fifth street within the city as the youths were walking home from the game.

One man, Frederick Albert Smith, 20, 423 Mercedia street, Venice, was charged in a strong-arm robbery of Joseph Thompson, 14, 1481 Fourth street, Madison.

Smith was booked by Madison police on a robbery charge but then was released to the sheriff's office and was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail after magistrate's court last week. He had taken Thompson's wallet, which contained $20 money. The wallet later was found in bushes at a nearby church.

In another incident in the 1800 block of Fifth street, two boys and two girls were confronted by a group of about 30 youths. The boys were knocked down and kicked and a girl was molested. The molesters attempted to take her clothing off.

The other girl ran to a nearby paragonage and called police, after which Smith was arrested.

In East Madison a youth, who along with three other boys had stopped to talk to a girl, was attacked by two other boys and a girl and was robbed of his wallet containing $3.

County authorities rounded up a group of youths, along with their parents, in their investigation of the brawls. One deputy said they appeared to be spontaneous rather than planned.

Group Hears Talk On Hippie Movement

A Southern Illinois University lecturer whose current research into the present-day phenomena of drug usage and the "hippie movement" is directed towards the Ph. D. dissertation in that field, recently disclosed details of his investigations to members of the Gateway East Field Chapter of the Phi Delta Kappa Men's Professional Education Fraternity.

John Rawian, a lecturer in the SIU Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections, spoke at the chapter's initial dinner meeting of the 1967-68 school year, held at the Lewis and Clark restaurant, East Alton. Several local educators who are Phi Delta Kappa members attended.

The guest speaker described various experiences encountered in gathering data on the drug and hippie movements, noting that his research has required extensive traveling. Rawian said that recently he returned from a field trip to west coast areas, where he visited the headquarters of several hippie and other off-beat groups.

The Gateway East chapter officials announced the next meeting for Nov. 4, at the Edwardsville Junior high school, when a program on "Contrasting Practices in Education Leadership: United States and European Countries" will highlight the evening. Dr. Henry Ross, associate professor at

ABOUT THIS QUESTION:

"If a hunter avoids an auto accident on the trip out—doesn't get shot at or accidentally shoot himself—avoid a mishap on the way home—then naturally he doesn't need a HUNT-POLY ACCIDENT policy. But will my wife rest better if I get such insurance from the Lueders Agency?"

Winter Wheat Seeding To Start Soon in Area

Winter wheat seeding for the 1968 harvest will begin soon. Lee Rogers, office manager, Madison County Agricultural Conservation and Conservation Service, reminded today. Farmers usually wait for the passage of the "dry free" dunes before they plant.

He also reminded Illinois wheat producers that they can qualify for the benefits of the 1968 wheat program by fulfilling the requirements.

Domestic marketing certificates for the 1968 wheat crop will be valued at the difference between full wheat parity and the national average $1.25 price-support loan value. The 1968 certificates will be issued on the projected production of 40% of the allotment. The loans will be available to the wheat produced on a participating farm.

FBI Sets Conference For Police Agencies

A special law enforcement conference will be sponsored by the FBI Thursday at Belleville for law enforcement agencies in the area.

Topics will be "The National Crime Information Center" and "Legal Decisions Affecting Law Enforcement." It will be one of a series of similar meetings being held throughout the nation this month.

The conference is designed to discuss in detail the FBI National Crime Information Center established last Jan. 27. It also will highlight legal developments of current interest, including an analysis of court decisions and developments having a bearing on probable cause for arrest.

Safety Council Points Out Motorist Must Improve 'If He Wants to Survive'

"A good driver will acknowledge that he is part of a problem (the traffic accident problem) so murderous that it makes war seem like child's play," Raymond Christman, president of the Quad-City Safety Council, said today.

"He knows that more lives have been lost in traffic than have been sacrificed in battle since our nation was founded. The good driver knows that he must be a better driver if he is to survive."

"Armed with knowledge and skill, motivated by morale and proper attitude, he breaks down the barriers of careless and inattentive driving and sweeps from his path every obstacle to safe driving."

"The good driver has total awareness and total alertness, backed by the golden rule while he is behind the wheel. He realizes that as a nation, we have not even begun to scratch the surface of traffic accident prevention."

"He realizes that we need the efforts of every leader on the firing line, every parent, every principal and every business owner to keep hitting the traffic problem at the driver's level."

"They must hit it hard and relentlessly," Christman concluded.

Plant in Fall or Spring

Every year the same argument develops. Will fall planted nursery plants grow better than spring planted plants? Before you read the rest, cast your vote. Fall? Spring?

Both nurserymen and writers are cagey about a blanket statement, but after developing several loopholes will admit fall is just as good. After developing some more loopholes, will admit the fall is best for some kinds of plants.

Evergreens seem well adapted to fall planting when the conditions are favorable. Fall rains and early planting of the trees. During dry falls, all plant material suffers, especially newly planted trees and shrubs. During a dry fall, plants cannot properly develop a new root system and winter die from lack of sufficient water (roots) during the winter. But normal rainfall, a little extra care and early fall transplanting allows for new root development before cold weather, and a fast start next spring.

Severe cold weather may cause deep frost in the ground. This threat always worries homeowners and nurserymen. Recommended plant material from local nurseries are completely hardy, but may still die if not well cared for. The deep freezing traps all the root in the ground, and stops the moisture supply to the tops. During severe cold snaps, the tops dry out and the plant dies. A simple preventative is much new transplants, and sensitive evergreens to prevent deep freezing.

How about plants often saved for spring transplanting? The list isn't large, but includes birch, dogwood, hickory, magnolia, oak, sweet gum, sassafras, walnut, sour gum and mountain ash. Some experts feel they often recover better from transplanting shock when saved for spring.

Fall Color and Fertilizer Have you seen sweet gum trees that didn't have nice fall color?

If you own one, it may not be due to a rebellious tree! The season, and the fertilizer supply are especially important factors in developing fall color on many trees and shrubs.

Fall color is not related to early frosts. It seems related to cool soil temperatures and supply of fertilizer nutrients. A cool wet fall provides the gradual soil temperature drop related to beautiful fall leaf color.

or. Hot dry falls often result in poor color, and sudden dropping of pale green or sickly yellow leaves before the color can develop.

But what about cool wet seasons when your tree doesn't get a good start? When the leaves stay green or develop a weak yellow. Here is where fertilizer often interferes. Well fertilized trees get an extra supply of nitrogen which interferes with normal color development. It will make more growth than normal trees, and have better green color, but fall color will be poor. As these trees and shrubs age, natural fall coloration will develop in spite of the fertilizer.

Re-seeding Your Turf? If you made a weekend analysis of your turf, you may be ready to reseed. Thin spots are patches of bare soil.

Let's look at specific situations. Those brown spots of a month ago have begun to green up, and some are very thin. A good rule of thumb is to look for complete bare spots. When these spots are as large as a table plate, then lightly reseed! Areas as large as a saucer will fill in quickly as nearby plants creep into these small openings. Well fertilized is the secret.

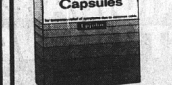

Large irregular dead areas from the August dry spell? Thick thatch is sometimes associated with this problem. The thatch favors melting out disease as well as webworm. When the thatch is more than 1/2 inch thick, turf specialists worry about ever controlling this disease-insect complex. Earthworms seem to control thatch buildup, but when lawns are treated for mole control, worms disappear too. Where thatch is over 1/2 inch thick, thatch removal is worthwhile. Reseeding is necessary where large dead spots exist.

Have you had patches of knottiness in your turf? These plants are dead and show up as patches of dead weeds. But the surviving bluegrasses should show up. You may not need to reseed unless table plate sized dead areas are present.

Depot NYC Group Tours State Prison

The Granite City Army Depot provided bus transportation last week for 17 of its Neighborhood Youth Corps enrollees to visit Menard State Prison. They were accompanied by Narmen O. Fennay and Anita J. Guffy, work advisors, and Barbara Van Wigenen (VISTA). Arrangements for the trip were made with Warden Max P. Fry and John J. Twoney, institution sociologist. The NYCs were taken on a tour of the prison, had lunch, and sat in on a group counseling session with Twoney as the leader, and three inmates of the prison. A new program, "Prison Profiles," established at Menard, was explained by Twoney and the prison's chaplain, Rev. Albert W. Hillebrand. The program, Twoney explained, is a prison-based discussion-panel created to promote understanding between prisoners and society. Panelists draw from their lives—inside and outside prison—insights helpful in preventing juvenile delinquency and providing "Prisoners Are People." The prisoners' tales were to the youths, telling about the crimes they had committed, and their personal thoughts about why they went wrong. Twoney stressed that "taking chances with the law is not worth it."

Plan Journalism Hall of Fame as Lovejoy Tribute

A campaign to establish an International Journalism Hall of Fame in Alton as a new monument to the late Lovejoy. —America's first newspaperman to give his life for a free press—has been named by the committee of newspapermen and civic officials in Alton. Lovejoy was shot to death by an angry mob on the night of 1837, at a riverfront warehouse where he was guarding his fourth printing press. His first three were destroyed by mobs incensed at his views over slavery, Catholicism and intemperance. Meanwhile, Price, Inc., an Alton civic beautification group, has undertaken the refurbishing of the present Lovejoy monument—a 90-foot, stone shaft in Alton City Cemetery—and the area around it. In recent years, the monument has grown around the shaft, the fence has sagged, and trees have grown wild. Monument staff, the main tourist entrance, hiding the site. Buried in Secret Following his death, Lovejoy was buried in a secret spot known only to his friends. His last construction of a roadway at the site required removal of the body and it was

Madison GI Gets Medal, Becomes Father Same Day

A Madison soldier who was wounded in action against hostile forces in Vietnam in mid-August, received the Purple Heart Medal — and became a father for the first time on the same day.

Specialist Fourth Class Lonnie R. Sherry, 21, husband of Mrs. Mary (Whitehead) Sherry, 1021 Grand avenue, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sherry, 1519 Collinsville avenue, all of Madison, sustained back and leg injuries on Aug. 19, when the vehicle in which he and three companions were riding struck a Viet Cong mine and exploded.

The local serviceman was presented the Purple Heart Medal on Aug. 24 by Col. Robert J. Koch, commanding officer, Artillery, while still confined in a field hospital. He has since returned to active duty with the 13th Artillery.

Co-incidentally, on the same day Specialist Sherry received his medal, five-pound, eight-ounce Vicki Lynn Sherry arrived at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

A 1965 graduate of Venice high school, Sp/4 Sherry entered the Army on Feb. 18, 1966, and has served in Vietnam since June. He was employed by an East St. Louis firm before induction.

The medal presentation ceremony was held by the name and address will be included with other Quad-City military personnel in Thursday's "Yule Mail Call" list.

Commendation Medal For Sp4 Stokely

Specialist Four William J. Stokely, 2450 Benton street, who has just returned from a year's service in Vietnam, has received the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service in connection with military operations against a hostile force.

Specialist Stokely distinguished himself while serving as a personnel specialist in the 4th Infantry Division Casualty Reports clerk, and in this capacity was charged with taking reports from forward elements, screening all wounded personnel records and calling in the finalized reports to higher headquarters. "He assumed these duties enthusiastically and executed them in a consistently superior manner," the commendation states.

"In December 1966, Specialist Stokely was placed in charge of the Casualty Section filing system. He again excelled at his new position and with painstaking care and thoroughness maintained an accurate and up-to-date account of the Division's casualties."

"Because of his high degree of skill and professional competence, he was promoted to Chief Casualty Reports Clerk in February 1967. Throughout his tour of duty he demonstrated superior knowledge of administrative procedures and rare clerical ability which marked him as a soldier of the highest quality."

Specialist Stokely's diligence, loyalty and devotion to duty are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit and the United States Army."

How To Balance Your Checkbook

By BARRY LOMAN

Vice-President, Granite City

Trust and Savings Bank

There are more ways of balancing a checkbook than there are home remedies for a sore throat. And if you have a homemade checkbook balancing system that was passed down from your great-grandmother and it works all right—by all means keep it.

But if balancing your checkbook is one of those chores that buzzes in your conscience like a late summer mosquito, your method may be too complicated.

Here's a simple, six-step procedure so easy that it gets to be automatic after awhile:

First step: when you get your bank statement, sort your checks numerically, or by date issued—either way you like.

Step two: reduce your checkbook balance by the amount of any service charges not previously recorded.

Step three: write down the bank's statement balance on a sheet of paper.

Step four: check back each paid check to your checkbook and list at the top of the bank. Subtract the total of these unpaid checks from the bank's balance on the statement.

Step five: now add any deposit made later than the date on the bank's statement — or enroute to the bank by mail.

Step six: the figure you're looking at should be the same as the figure the bank shows on its statement.

Now, if it doesn't agree, double-check. Check your arithmetic again on the bank service charges, and on the deposits which you've made after the date of the statement, or which you know to be in transit. Then refigure the amount of checks you've written which have not yet been paid by the bank.

If it still doesn't balance, let the bank know immediately. The more time goes by, the more complicated it gets.

The real balancing of a checkbook takes place, not at the end of the month... but at the time when you issue each check and fill out the stub.

Checks have become very easy to carry. Do you remember when they used to be enormous sheets of paper? And centuries before that, checks were sticks of wood.

The most unusual check to come to my attention is one written by the Lincoln Electric Welding Company on a sheet of steel. The writing is a bead of welding rod... and the check measures 28 inches across.

It was done as a stunt to advertise a new type of welding but the bank went along with it and paid out the money, which was $2500.

You see, a check is nothing more than your personal note to the bank to pay to the bearer a specific amount of money from your account. While we use a standard form to keep down the confusion, a check can actually be written on the back of a brown paper bag and be legal. (Your banker won't like it, however, I warn you, because he must handle thousands of checks each week.)

A check is really a marvelous personal convenience, a financial wonder which I recommend to you.

For financial assistance and banking services, you are invited to consult with Mr. Loman or any of the other officers at Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, 1909 Edison Avenue.

The oldest son, Marine Cpl. Howard E. Gregory Jr., 25, is serving with the First Tank Battalion of the First Marine Division and at last word, was providing support action in the vicinity of Da Nang, Vietnam. He enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1964, after first serving five years in the U.S. Army. In Vietnam since last December, Howard initially believed he would be rotated home by Christmas, but recently informed his parents these expectations appear dim. On duty with the Air Force near Saigon is Airman First Class Jerry E. Gregory, who is involved in operations "some type of power project," according to his mother, Jerry, 20, has been in Vietnam since February and enlisted in the service in January 1965.

The Gregory's youngest son, Edward, 18, volunteered for Marine Corps duty Aug. 28, following his graduation from Granite City high school. He is presently taking basic training at the Marine Corps Replacement Depot near San Diego, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory have with them at home their only daughter, Brenda, who is equally proud of her three brothers as their parents.

Use of Defoliants

A few farmers have asked about the use of defoliants and desiccants to dry up weeds in soybeans at harvest time. University of Illinois agronomists do not recommend such practices.

Here's why. If you apply the chemicals before the beans mature, premature loss of leaves reduces the yield. An if you postpone the application, you will still have to contend with the tough stems of foxtail, pigweed, velvet leaf and cocklebur.

There's also the danger of shattering some of the beans as you move through the field with spray equipment. Some defoliants have been cleared for non-food crops and for soybeans being harvested for seed. But none have been cleared for soybeans being harvested for food or feed.

Least Cost Way

Farmers are constantly looking for "least-cost" ways of doing the job. In very recent years urea has become an important feed ingredient in many dairy, beef and sheep rations.

If seven pounds of 44% soybean meal costs more than one pound of urea and six pounds shelled corn, you can cut supplement bills by using urea. In "prill" or "buckshot" form, urea generally costs about $100 per ton.

Harvesting Accidents

An accident during harvest could cost you time, money and even your life. Making some simple adjustments before going into the field each morning will lessen your chances of an accident as well as prolong the life of your combine.

If repairs or adjustments must be made in the field, be sure you shut off everything. No one realizes how fast moving parts can pull a person into a running machine. Trying to clean out the machine while it is running causes many accidents.

Shields and guards are put there for your protection. So be sure yours are kept in place at all times.

Hurrying will seldom gain you much time and often leads to carelessness. This is the time when you are most likely to have an accident.

The harvest season means long hours of constant work which causes excessive fatigue. A farmer for a tired person to become careless and impatient. You can reduce fatigue by trading off drivers every two or three hours.

Avoid loose fitting clothes with flapping sleeves and trouser legs which may easily catch in something. By wearing rubber-soled shoes you can get better footing on metal surfaces.

Rat Control Methods

Questions about rat control methods have been numerous recently. There are two preventive practices that should be used. One is to eliminate rat harborage, such as tall weeds or grass, piles of trash, lumber, fence posts and brush. Then follow with good day-to-day housekeeping.

A second practice is to make buildings rat-proof. Close cracks, break and spaces around pipes, vents and other openings with concrete, hardware cloth or sheet metal. Screen all drains, sewers, venting pipes, vents and other openings with concrete, hardware cloth or sheet metal. Screen all drains, sewers, venting pipes, vents and other openings with concrete, hardware cloth or sheet metal.

Many foods make good baits—peanut butter, nut meats, doughnuts, cake, fresh crisp-fried bacon, cheese, raisins, strawberry jam, and soft candies like milk chocolate and gumdrops. If possible, baits should be fastened by winding a short piece of thread or string around the bait and trigger. Trap-shy individuals may be caught by hiding the entire trap under a layer of flour, dirt, sawdust, fine shavings or similar lightweight material. Poisons are often used in rat

3 in Family Hurt
Oscar Whitworth, 33, Mrs. Evelyn Whitworth, 29, and Sharon Whitworth, eight, all of 2440 Illinois avenue, were injured when his auto, which was stopped for traffic, was struck by another driven by Daniel Bathon, 720 Madison avenue, Madison, at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the 1600 block of Madison avenue.

The Whitworths were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment. He suffered pains in the lower back, neck and cervical area. The girl had pains to her right shoulder and clavicle area. Bathon was charged with speeding and following too closely.

Clarence W. McKeel Jr., 19, of 2714 Cayuga street, was injured when his auto collided with another driven by John M. Ishum, 3201 Independence drive, at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in front of the Ishum home. McKeel was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with abrasions to his face and with neck pains.

Rte. 3 Crash Injures 2
Two persons were injured about 2:45 a.m. Sunday in a two-car collision at the dangerous intersection of Route 3 and Chain of Rocks road west of Mitchell.

Taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital were Rosemary Reeves, 19, St. Louis, driver of one car, and Fred Byersdof, 24, St. Louis, a passenger in the other car that was being driven by Carl Miller, 23, St. Louis. Miller escaped injury.

State police said Miller was traveling on Route 3, and the Reeves car was headed west on Chain of Rocks road.

Three persons were injured when autos driven by Harry Berenski, Farmington, Mo., and Harold E. Sullivan, 49, of 617 Chouteau avenue, collided at 6:30 p.m. Sunday at East 23rd and August streets.

The victims were Mary Lou Berenski, nine, Sullivan and Hilda Sullivan, 48, of the Chouteau address. There was no report of hospital treatment.

Motorcyclist Injured
When the front of his motorcycle reared up, it fell on and injured the right leg of the driver, Thomas E. Henderson, 17, of 2815 Emme street, at 4:10 p.m. Thursday at West 24th street and Missouri avenue. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Arthur E. Jones, 42, of 2303 Benton street, a passenger in an auto driven by Arthur W. Jured when the driver attempted a left turn into a driveway and struck the side of the auto of Paul L. Stark, 14, Fourth street, Madison, at 3 p.m. Thursday on Route 162 a quarter mile west of Troy. Jones was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, Highland, for treatment.

control. No known rodenticide is completely safe to use. Bait stations should be carefully made of solid material and safety precautions observed.

Rat poisons fall into two groups, single-dose and multiple-dose. Follow directions given on the container, and observe all safety precautions.

Rats are a threat to health. It has been said that rat-borne diseases have killed more people than all the wars in history.

They are known to transmit to men and animals more than 35 diseases, including plague, typhus fever, food poisoning, leptospirosis, tularemia, rat bite fever, atrophic rhinitis, infectious jaundice and distemper. They also carry 18 kinds of lice, fleas, ticks and mites. Most large cities report that rats bite 150 or more persons each year.

The total loss due to rats is believed by experts to exceed one billion dollars a year, a figure that does not seem too far-fetched when calculations indicate that descendants of one pair of rats could exceed 350 million in three years. The average litter size is 10, but can be as many as 20.

Rats are good swimmers. They will sometimes swim through sewer lines and enter homes through floor drains. The front incisor teeth of a rat grow at the rate of 3 inches a year. Therefore, the rat must gnaw to live. If the new growth is not worn down by constant gnawing, the teeth will curve back in the form of tusks and the animal will die of starvation. Rats can gnaw through lead pipes, work through 3 inches of poorly-mixed concrete, cut through oak planks or sun-dried bricks. The best control for rats is to take away the food and shelter that permits them to survive. Traps, gases, and poisons will only temporarily halt a growing rat population.

Leaflets published by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service list more details on rat control. Copies are available at the county extension office.

No Hog Cholera

Hog cholera was not diagnosed in Illinois during the month of July, 1967. This is only the second month in over 100 years that cholera was not known to exist in this state.

Combined efforts of many groups and individuals in recent years have resulted in much progress being made toward eradicating this costly disease in the United States.

Twenty cases of rabies in animals were reported in Illinois during July 1967. Seventeen of the cases were in deer, two in cats and one in a bat.

Parking Lot Accident

Autos driven by Thomas Bilen, 4507 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Porter Whitworth, 2718 Nameoki road, collided on parking lot of the Na-Bor-Hood liquor store, 2530 Nameoki road, at 11:40 a.m. Saturday.

UF Volunteer Workers Do the Job and Pay
Who pays for the meals of United Fund leaders and volunteers at the kickoff dinner and report meeting luncheons? They do! Themselves!

Mitchell B. Milonski, general chairman of this year's $384,000 Tri-Cities Area United Fund campaign, answered the question today, pointing out that campaign expenses are held to a minimum for the benefit of the contributors and for the 20

United Fund agencies. "The meals are all Dutch treat," The weekly United Fund bulletin points out that the report meetings are open to all persons. "The program is short. The cost is low—$1 for lunch. The place is convenient at the YMCA."

This week's report meeting is scheduled for 12:15 to 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. Earl Dotzauer is chairman of the campaign audit committee, and is being aided by Gilbert Hall and Boyd Presley. They compile the contributions at the door to the YMCA auditorium as the drive leaders and workers arrive. Report meetings are scheduled for the next four Wednesdays.

Auto Parts Stolen
A distributor cap and wiring were stolen from a 1961 auto parked on the Brewer Motors lot, 2163 Madison avenue, it was reported Thursday.

Attempted Theft
Theodore Porter, 1100a Douglas street, reported to Venice police Friday morning that an attempt had been made to steal the battery from his 1966 auto. He said the cables were removed from the battery while the car was parked in the backyard at his home.

Mrs. Horn Appointed To County Cancer Post
Mrs. Harriet Horn of Granite City was appointed service chairman for the Madison County Unit of the American Cancer Society at the unit's first board meeting of the 1967-68 season Thursday evening.

The local resident, who is a member of the local community for the local community in 1967, also received a certificate of appreciation from the county organization.

Meeting at Skaggs Steak House in Wood River, unit officers and board members heard Rolla Mottaz, 1966-67 Crusade chairman, announce final results of the campaign, amounting to $68,000, as the largest total ever collected in Madison county.

Mottaz congratulated all those who participated in the campaign and said, "The outstanding results were achieved through special events and gifts, memorials, the generous donations by business leaders and industries and the hard-working door to door volunteer workers."

He commended highly the efforts by the 1967 Crusade chairmen in local communities to secure the accelerated results. "Percentage-wise we are now second in the state," he added.

Mrs. Ann Pieper of Granite City, a board member, also attended.

Three-Car Pileup On McKinley Bridge
Three cars were damaged Friday evening in a pileup on McKinley bridge. Venice police said no injuries were reported.

They said the autos of Robert Kozielek, 1641 Seventh street, Madison, and Alfred Woodard, 1654 Third street, Madison, were stopped on the bridge when the car of Jessie Givens, East St. Louis, hit Woodard's auto, knocking it into the Kozielek car.
